"Sticks and Stones: Where Beauty Begins"

Denville photographer Ward Vogt, is exhibiting his latest work, entitled "Sticks and Stones: Where Beauty Begins" at The Fine Grind Coffee Bar in Little Falls. This series of work features beautiful stone buildings, landscapes bolstered with rocks and stones, and a tree series that is simply breathtaking. The theory of the show is that all beautiful structures begin with stone, and the trees that surround the landscape enhance that beauty.

All good things begin and end with natural components.

The opening reception to meet the photographer will be held on Saturday, February 11th from 2 - 4 p.m.
